McKMAC again looking into city incorporation

Jack Durham

MCKINLEYVILLE – A new committee in McKinleyville is exploring the feasibility of turning McKinleyville into an incorporated city.

At its second meeting on Nov. 16, the McKinleyville Municipal Advisory Committee – Subcommittee on Incorporation Exploration approved its mission statement.

Manila moving to oust illegal RV park by Jan. 1

Jack Durham
MAD RIVER UNION

MANILA – The Manila Community Services District is asking a bank that is foreclosing on an illegal RV park in town to give its residents until Jan. 1, 2023 to find another place to live.

The Manila CSD Board of Directors vote 3-1, with board chair Meghan Ryan dissenting, to ask the bank to delay evicting tenants at 150 Stamps Lane until the new year. Linda Potts owned a home on the property, which includes about 30 tenants living in RVs scattered about the property.

According to an article on the news website Red-headed Blackbelt, Potts failed to pay her mortgage, so an undisclosed bank is foreclosing on the property.

The issue was brought to the Manila board by Director Sequoyah Faulk-Kellogg, who said that some of the people in the RV park have lived there for five years, some for 10 years.

“People deserve 60 days notice to find a place,” Faulk-Kellogg said.

“I’m certainly sympathetic to both sides of the coin here,” said board chair Ryan. “But what I struggle with is that it’s a private property matter.”

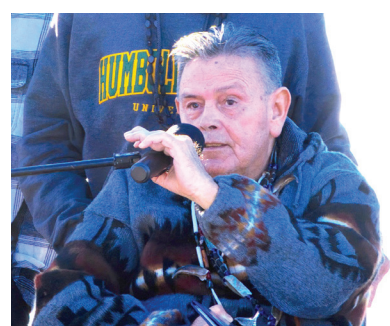

Ryan said there is also a lack of information about the park and the evictions. She suggested having staff gather more information and return to the board at a later date.

Whales, meat ratio delay Dungeness crab season

Daniel Mintz
MAD RIVER UNION

HUMBOLDT – Dungeness crabs haven’t filled out their shells enough so the commercial season in California and the rest of the West Coast will be delayed until at least mid-December.

As of mid-November, only Oregon’s Newport and Coos Bay had crab samples testing above a threshold 23 percent meat-to-shell ratio, with most of the rest of the coast in the 19 to 20 percent range.

In Humboldt County, the Eureka and Trinidad crab samples averaged 20.9 and 20.4 percent meat-to-shell ratios respectively.

Meat quality isn’t the only factor affecting California season delay. South of Mendocino County, “high numbers” of humpback whales led the California Department of Fish and Wildlife to call for a delay due to potential for entanglement in crab pot lines.

And the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife has reported that in addition to not meeting the meat quality threshold, the viscera of crab samples in some areas of the state’s coast had unsafe levels of domoic acid.

Another round of sampling will be done in early December. If meat quality improves enough and whale presence or domoic acid isn’t an issue, the season will open on Dec. 16.

The West Coast Dungeness crab season opening is coordinated under what’s known as the Tri-State Dungeness Crab Process, which aims for uniform coastwide opening of the fishery.

Last year’s season opened on Dec. 1, a surprising turn from previous years which saw delays due to meat quality and domoic acid.

Jackson and Bentley aim to please

Almost to December and the holiday events are coming at us, even for our four-legged friends. This coming Saturday Redwood Pals Rescue will be joining Companion Animal Foundation for Santa Paws at Jacoby’s Storehouse. Bring your pets from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. for a picture with Santa. Children and families welcome too. Costumes optional. I’ll be baking dog treats this week for the pups’ stocking stuffers.

The Humboldt County Animal Shelter’s Holiday Fundraiser will be held the next Saturday, Dec. 10 at the shelter. There is a huge Dutch Auction of fun raffle items laid out in the shelter lobby and an auction of art, jewelry, gift certificates and more online now at flar.betterworld.org/auctions/holiday-fundraiser-2022. All proceeds benefit the Emergency Medical Fund. Visitors to the shelter can purchase raffle tickets starting next Monday if they’d prefer to skip the in-person event.

I mention fostering here a lot. It does help us to open up a kennel or place a dog in a safe place but even more than that, it gives us valuable information about how a dog does in a home environment, information we can’t get from observing a dog in a kennel. This makes such a difference when potential adopters are considering dogs. German Shepherd girl Wednesday was adopted after her stay with one of our fabulous volunteers! These two dogs featured today have both had recent home visits that have provided us with so much information.

Jackson has been at the shelter for a while. He caught the attention of one of our volunteers who is primarily a cat helper, but spends some time each visit in the dog kennels where we practice “quiet kennel,” a calming technique. Jackson was always so calm and polite when he took his treats that she asked if he could come home for the weekend. She and her husband took Jackson for two nights and were not disappointed! They gave Jackson an A+ report card for his visit. Apparently he is what we sometimes think of as a “no assembly required” kind of dog. Their report:

We took Jackson home for the weekend and found him to be a lovely companion who is very easy to live with. He is very calm and gentle and eager to please. He never barked during the time he was with us, and when other dogs in our neighborhood barked, he would listen without responding. Jackson is completely house-trained, and does not exhibit inappropriate indoor behaviors such as chewing or scratching household objects. He was very quick to learn the rules of our home. For example, we invited him onto our couch (with a sheet on it) but told him “No” when he tried to get into our bed. He learned that distinction immediately, and it seemed like he had been with us for more than a day. At dinnertime he came close to see if he would be getting any, and when he was told “No, down” and we pointed to the floor, he immediately lay down and did not beg. Some household will be thrilled to have Jackson live with them.

Jackson is about 7 years old, neutered, microchipped, vaccinated and weighs in at about 75 pounds. He is waiting for you at the shelter!

Bentley (aka Baxter) spent about six weeks in a foster home as he went through his heartworm treatment. Bentley is known among the volunteers as a particularly happy dog. You can always tell it’s him from a distance because you can see his happy tail wagging! His foster reported: “Cheerful Bentley is an active and affectionate companion that likes to cuddle on the couch and bed, if allowed. He is well behaved in the car and enjoys going on outings, especially to the beach and dog park. He can be trusted to be left alone at home and in your car. He enjoys playing tug and fetch and likes being around other dogs, individually or in big groups. He doesn’t dig in the yard and you can pick up his food bowl in the middle of feeding without him being over protective. He is still learning his obedience commands.”

Bentley is about one year old. He is neutered, microchipped, vaccinated and weighs in at about 45 pounds. Still a youngster, Bentley hasn’t achieved the mellowness of a Jackson yet, but his zest for life will make him a great companion also!

Both of these boys are available through the Humboldt County Animal Shelter. Get more information and appointments at (707) 840-9132.

Latest tally: Nov. 8 vote unchanged, except for...

MAD RIVER UNION
HUMBOLDT – The latest update to the Nov. 8 election returns saw most front runners in prominent races solidify their positions to ensure their election, including Arcata, Blue Lake and Trinidad city council winners.

However, Arcata’s “Put the Earth On Top” ballot measure staged a surprising come-from-behind reversal, gaining a 135-vote, or 2 1/2 percent lead thanks to newly counted mail-in votes.

“Happy with the results, but we will wait to celebrate until the final report is posted, probably on Friday, Dec. 2,” said Measure M author Dave Meserve.

Cutten-area dogs showing signs of poisoning

HUMBOLDT COUNTY SHERIFF’S OFFICE

CUTTEN –The Humboldt County Sheriff’s Office has been alerted to the suspicious deaths of multiple dogs in the Cutten area.

Over the last week, approximately five dogs in the area of Excelsior Road have died after reportedly exhibiting symptoms associated with poisoning.

Preliminary investigation indicates the dogs may have consumed an unknown green substance found on sidewalks of the neighborhood.

Residents in the area are encouraged to inspect their yards and sidewalks for any unknown materials, and monitor pets closely while out on walks in the area.

The symptoms of poisoning vary depending on the substance and quantity your dog has breathed in or eaten. There is no single sign that you can use to diagnose the situation.

However, there are some common symptoms to watch out for such as gastrointestinal or neurological issues. The following may be signs of dog poisoning:

- Diarrhea or blood in the stool (either bright red blood or dark black tarry stools)
- Vomiting or loss of appetite.
- Seizures or tremors.
- Behavioral changes (lethargy or unsteady when standing or walking; hyperactivity)
- Bruising or bleeding (best found in areas of little or no hair, such as the gums, inside the ear flaps, and inside the groins; nose bleeds or bloody urine)

- Finding of unusual material in a dog’s stool, such as peculiar green or corn-like substances which might be rodenticide ingestion.

If your dog is exhibiting the above symptoms or you’ve found your dog interacting with something dangerous, take immediate action. The faster you respond, the better the outlook for your dog. Here are the steps you should take:

- Stay calm and remove your dog away from the potentially poisonous substance.
- Take note of the situation and your dog’s symptoms.
- Contact your veterinarian. Always have their number programmed into your phone. If it’s after hours, contact the nearest emergency clinic or a pet poison hotline. Ask if you should come in immediately or induce vomiting at home.

- If possible, safely collect any of the remaining potential poison or the packaging. If your dog has vomited, collect a sample. This will help the vet diagnose and treat your pet.

- Follow your veterinarian’s directions completely. If they advise you to come in, go in as soon as possible.

To learn more about keeping animals safe from poisonous substances, visit aspc.org/pet-care/animal-poison-control.

This case is still under investigation. Anyone with information about this case or who locates a similar suspicious substance is encouraged to call the Humboldt County Sheriff’s Office at (707) 445-7251 or the Sheriff’s Office Crime Tip line at (707) 268-2539.

SITE The two-phase project is planned for this area near off Foster Avenue. VIA RENEWABLE AMERICA, LLC

According to a project summary, Phase 1 involve the construction of a 3-megawatt alternating current (MWac), photovoltaic (PV) solar energy facility with associated inverters, fencing, and access road. The equipment pad would measure about 50 by 100 feet. Phase 1 would also include a 1.25-MW battery energy storage system. The project footprint would be about 12 acres.

Phase 2 would see construction of an additional 4-MWac PV solar energy facility immediately north of the Phase I site with an additional 3.75-MW battery energy storage system. The project footprint for Phase 2 would be about 18 acres.

The project is located directly northwest of the intersection of Foster Avenue and Janes Road, on property owned by Lane DeVries of Sun Valley Floral Farm. Under CEQA, an Initial Study (IS) and Mitigated Negative Declaration (MND) is being prepared for the project.

During the meeting, project proponents said it meets several of Humboldt’s energy goals, including helping to achieve net-zero greenhouse gas emissions by 2030, creation of decentralized and “dispatchable” (able to adjust power output supplied to the electrical grid on demand) and as a buffer during Public Safety Power Shutoffs.

Construction is expected to take four months for each phase, which will be spaced two years apart. Up to 50 workers will work on the project during construction, with up to 50 truck trips to the site daily.

Various measures are planned to reduce environmental impact, including minimal ground disturbance with no use of concrete for the PV panels, limited use of water, implementation of a Pollinator Habitat Program (with beehives) and creation of a decommissioning plan following the project’s estimated 35-year lifespan.

The panels themselves are made of purified crystalline silicon and are free of toxic chemicals. The panels will rotate to follow the sun for maximum exposure and power generation.

Renewable America, LLC manages about 30 projects across California. Questions about the project may be directed to Rodney Yandell, Senior Planner, at (707) 445-7541 or ryandell@co.humboldt.ca.us.

Arcata renews MOU with CUNA for Valley West work

MAD RIVER UNION

ARCATA – At its Oct. 24 meeting, the City Council renewed for one year the city’s Memorandum of Understanding between Playhouse Arts and the City of Arcata for Comunidad Unida del Norte de Arcata (CUNA) for community engagement in Valley West.

First implemented in December 2021 as an alliance for uniting and improving Arcata’s northernmost neighborhoods, the partnership “has met the goals of the MOU and has fostered greater momentum for community connectivity and projects in Valley West,” according to a staff report.

Successes have included community gatherings, collaborations with area businesses, meetings, cleanups, participatory budgeting and future planning.

City Councilmember-elect

Kimberley White, who serves as a co-director for CUNA in Valley West along with Eibar Romero and Laura Muñoz, said she will recuse herself as necessary when related business is before the council.

Under a new organizational arrangement, the three CUNA co-coordinator staff would become staff of Playhouse Arts and continue the work of CUNA. Playhouse Arts is the non-profit organization serving as the Local Arts Agency for Arcata, and is also committed to community building.

Running through Nov. 30 of 2023, the contract budgets $56,000 in city funds for staffing, $6,000 for supplies and travel and $6,200 for administrative costs, for a total of $68,200. In return, CUNA will provide one full-time equivalent employee dedicated to Valley West duties.

Postal | Do your Post Office visit as soon as possible holiday surge, the Postal Service is expanding Sunday deliveries in high package volume locations. Mail carriers will also deliver Priority Mail Express packages on Christmas Day for an additional fee in select locations.

There are temporary price increases in place through 12:01 a.m. Central, Jan 22, 2023. The increase affects both retail and business customers for some of our more popular shipping products, including military shipping. International products are unaffected.

These temporary rates help keep the Postal Service competitive and are similar to adjustments in past years to help cover extra handling costs to ensure a successful peak season. More information can be found on our website.

The temporary adjustment is part of Delivering for America, the Postal Service’s 10-year plan for achieving financial sustainability and service excellence, which calls for appropriate pricing initiatives. Even with the temporary increase, the Postal Service has some of the lowest mail postage rates in the industrialized world and continues to offer great values in shipping.

Ship from home

Don’t feel like going to a Post Office

location to drop off your special gift? You can go online to usps.com or use the Click-N-Ship feature for help shipping that special holiday gift, ordering free Priority Mail boxes,* printing shipping labels, purchasing postage, and even requesting free next-day Package Pickup. And usps.com is always open.

*Boxes are delivered within the U.S. with your regular mail, usually within seven to 10 business days. Exclusions apply. For details and to order, visit store.usps.com/store/home.

Busiest week

The busiest time of the season for the Postal Service begins two weeks before Christmas. It’s expected that customer traffic at all Post Office locations will steadily increase beginning the week of Dec. 5. The week of Dec. 12 is anticipated to be the busiest mailing, shipping and delivery week of the season.

Holiday how-tos

The Postal Service offers shipping tips in 10 video “how to” guides. Each video is less than three minutes long and shows how to properly address and ship packages, how to pack a box so items arrive safely, and more.

For safety reasons, effective June 6, packages containing hazardous materials — in particular, lithium-ion batteries — must now be mailed by surface transportation using Parcel Select Ground or USPS Retail Ground, Parcel Return Service or Ground Return Service. The Postal Service issued the new requirements for shipping used electronics and other hazardous materials because items of this nature can cause fires and other dangers to mailers, air carriers, aircraft passengers and others.

Customers can find detailed information on common hazardous, restricted and perishable materials in the Postal Service’s Publication 52, Hazardous, Restricted, and Perishable Mail.

Mail and packages weighing more than 10 ounces and/or more than a half-inch thick cannot be dropped into a collection box or left for a carrier to pick up if you’re using stamps for postage. Instead, take them to a retail associate at any of our Post Office locations or use one of our self-service kiosks to weigh your packages and print shipping labels.

Additional news and information — including all shipping deadlines — can be found on the Postal Service’s Holiday Newsroom webpage.

The Postal Service generally receives no tax dollars for operating expenses and relies on the sale of postage, products and services to fund its operations.

Scholarly rigor lost

The headline in another paper read “VI suppose it’s encouraging to see that the student leadership team of McKinleyville High School has been trained in the proper courtesies of personal pronouns, the seeking of social justice, and the perusal of “more modern anti-racist literature” (Mack High students, supes share in-sights, Union, Nov. 16).

scholarly rigor and a healthy skepticism regarding any and all trendy ideologies that may be swirling through academia.

Students must understand that, as was the case in all prior eras, a good part of what they are being taught—especially in the social sciences—will eventually be shown to be incomplete or even false. Therefore, their best approach is to be armed with an open and logical mind.

It seems to me that the Humboldt Bay region is at risk of becoming an intellectual monoculture, at least in its educational institutions, with rote recitation of buzz words and politically correct phrases appearing with distressing regularity in the pages of the Mad River Union.

How sad that our youngsters are not being exposed to a wider and deeper variety of ideas.

For those instructors at local high schools, and at higher levels of education as well, here are two recent publications that would make excellent “books in common” to promote free thought and expression among faculty and students:

The Coddling of the American Mind; How Good Intentions and Bad Ideas are Setting Up a Generation for Failure (2018), by liberal scholars Greg Lukianoff and Jonathon Haight.

Woke Racism; How a New Religion Has Betrayed Black America (2021) by African American linguist John McWhorter.

While it’s a shopworn cliché, it’s still absolutely true that our sacred duty is to teach our young people how to think, not what to think.

The bird lady recommends special treats for backyard visitors

In a previous column I suggested the two most popular seeds and a few others liked by specific bird species.

It doesn’t take long and we begin to see the birds in our yards as “OUR” birds. Just like our household pets, we want to give them the best. And some of us go “off the deep end.” You may brag to the neighbors, “Well, I already have three seed feeders and 4 for the hummers but I couldn’t resist the fat tube feeder that’s about 3 feet long, has 10 seed ports and holds 5 pounds of seed. I am embarrassed to say, it was $100.” (This is real... the specs may not be exact... but, yes, there is such a thing and I sold a few from my retail store in Old Town.)

So, I will tell you here how to spoil these little dinosaurs.

An easy step from a seed and nectar feeder is suet. Suet is pure protein and is high in fat content. Birds eat suet in winter when insects are not plentiful and they need fat to stay warm.

In reality, “suet” is beef fat. Some people made it themselves by melting the fat, called rendering. I have never done it but have been told it is very stinky and messy. However, there are commercial varieties. They come in squares (four or five inches) and can be placed in a basket made with plastic coated 1-inch mesh wire.

The top is hinged so, when empty, the plastic tray can be replaced with another cake. You will find a big variety including peanuts, seed and fruit. Remember, not all birds are desirable. Not all seeds are desirable.

There is an alternative. I found, years ago, a recipe called “Bird Gorp.” It is three to four parts corn meal, one part each of flour, peanut butter and lard. When mixed together it is the consistency of “Play Dough”

Here is my secret to ease the process. Mixing, especially by hand, is difficult. I have an electric mixer with a bread hook. So easy! Plus, it has a very long shelf life if refrigerated. I make a huge batch (filling the large mixer bowl). Birds love it!

I bought a basket with some plain suet cakes. Once emptied, I recycled the plastic tray, pressing in the gorp. I reuse it many times.

I just wash and refill it.

I mainly want to attract kinglets and warblers. Starlings eat it too. Ah, what the heck, they are birds, too!

If you enjoy chickadees and nuthatches, an upside down suet feeder can be used. The roof is usually wood and the wire is under the roof where clinging birds can access the suet from underneath.

Let’s talk about other specialties. No longer locally but I am sure these can be found on-line are fruit feeders, nectar feeders for orioles, jelly feeders (grape, yum!), suet logs where you can smooch in gorp or peanut butter. There are peanut feeders and feeders for mealworms (also called bluebird feeders). For lack of space, I will again direct you to the computer about raising mealworms. Or, of course, you can buy them. My guess is at a fishing shop.

Jimmy’s rich backstory

HUMBOLDT COUNTY SHERIFF’S OFFICE

HOOPA – On Thursday, Nov. 17 at about 10:33 a.m., Humboldt County Sheriff’s deputies on patrol in the Hoopa area conducted a vehicle investigation on the 12500 block of State Highway 96.

Deputies contacted the single occupant of the vehicle, 48-year-old Jimmy Lewis Johnson II, who was found to have an outstanding felony warrant for his arrest.

Johnson was taken into custody without incident. During a search of the vehicle, deputies located a small amount of suspected fentanyl.

Johnson was booked into the Humboldt County Correctional Facility on charges of possession of a controlled substance and violation of probation, in addition to warrant charges of possession of a controlled substance for sales, reckless driving, possession of stolen property, petty theft, possession of a controlled substance, possession of a controlled substance paraphernalia and violation of probation.

Bagley bagged after tawdry clash

HUMBOLDT COUNTY SHERIFF’S OFFICE

EUREKA – On Sunday, Nov. 20 at about 12:12 p.m., Humboldt County Sheriff’s deputies were dispatched to a residence on the 3600 block of Old Arcata Road near Eureka for the report of an assault.

Deputies contacted an adult female victim at the residence.

During their investigation, deputies learned that an acquaintance of the victim, 45-year-old Bobbie Gene Bagley, reportedly arrived at the residence uninvited.

When asked to leave, Bagley reportedly physically assaulted the victim with a knife and then threatened to kill her if she contacted law enforcement.

The victim was able to escape, and Bagley reportedly fled the residence.

On Monday, Nov. 21 at about 1:28 a.m., a Sheriff’s deputy on patrol in the Eureka area located Bagley’s vehicle parked on Commercial Street.

Deputies conducted a vehicle investigation and located Bagley inside. Bagley was arrested without incident.

During a search of the vehicle, deputies located approximately .16 grams of methamphetamine, pepper spray and a knife.

Bagley was booked into the Humboldt County Correctional Facility on charges of assault with a deadly weapon other than a firearm, false imprisonment, intimidating a victim and unlawful possession of pepper spray.

Duncan charged

HUMBOLDT COUNTY SHERIFF’S OFFICE

EUREKA – On Sunday, Nov. 20 at about 3:10 p.m., Humboldt County Sheriff’s deputies were dispatched to a residence on the 4000 block of F Street, in the county’s jurisdiction of Eureka, for the report of a domestic violence incident with a stabbing victim.

Deputies arrived at the residence and located an adult female victim with serious injuries. She was transported to a local hospital for medical attention.

While at the residence, deputies also contacted and detained 42-year-old Robert James Duncan. Through further investigation, deputies learned that Duncan reportedly physically assaulted the victim and then stabbed her following a disagreement.

Duncan was booked into the Humboldt County Correctional Facility on charges of attempted murder, inflicting corporal injury on a spouse and child endangerment.

Something, somehow, has gotten inside past locked doors, and it sounds big

• Tuesday, November 15 9:02 a.m. Propane brigands violated a Valley West enclosure, the better to mine it for the fiery-succulent, mercaptan-laced gaseous nectar.

9:39 a.m. A man rehearsing the entirety of his limited but percussive profanity inventory in spirited fashion outside a minor movie theatre spouted, sputtered, fumed and departed.

10:01 a.m. A roommate took someone’s door of its hinges, a “disgruntled” caller reported, casting doubt on prospects for regrutntling.

12:13 p.m. A missing stop sign at Sixth and G streets deeply annoyed a caller, who became irate. Told that the information would be relayed to a responsible city employee, the caller exploded with hostile rage, yelling at the dispatcher until they had to just hang up.

1:17 – 1:22 p.m. A man held forth “at the top of his lungs” at the Plaza’s center, arguing with tormentors unseen.

• Wednesday, November 12:43 p.m. A tall, slender man strode about a Valley West mobile home park in green plaid shirt and jeans, doing his best maintenance man imitation whilst casing the jernt for filchable fungibles. Asked what he was doing, he deigned to respond, and instead charted a swift course away from his inquisitor, abandoning the whole vigilant maintenance-dude charade forthwith.

5:59 p.m. A lady who thought she was getting a puppy

9:33 p.m. A non-employee in an employee-only area of a Uniontown supermarket allegedly struck a grocery worker, and was arrested.

• Sunday, November 20 7:29 a.m. On Samoa Boulevard just west of K Street, a motorist swerved to avoid a deer and struck something. The driver called from the car along the roadside, amid deployed airbags. His girlfriend was experiencing neck pain, while he said he had rib injuries. Both declined an ambulance.

10:16 p.m. From within a home on 11th Street, someone could hear “something” walking around in the locked house. How this being got in, and whether it was human, a large beast or something... else, was unknown. ’Course it coulda just been the roommate, but the reporting party didn’t know if that person was home or not.

• Monday, November 21 1:17 a.m. After someone passed way at the hospital, the deceased’s girlfriend called, threatening to murder a doctor.

OLD AND IMPROVED While its newly re-freshed front façade is getting a lot of attention, Arcata's Jacoby Storehouse is set for a complete overhaul. At its Oct. 25 meeting, the Planing Commission agreed with a Sept. 15 recommendation by the Historic Landmarks Committee and OK'd a contract under the Mills Act. This allows a tax offset for owners C.B.G.T., LLC in return for some $222,000 in rehabilitation work on the historic landmark, guided by a historic resources consultant. This includes a $172,000 paint job by Hamanaka Painting Company and $150,000 repair of the south façade by Pacific Builders. This year, non-functioning windows installed during the building's 1970s restoration will be removed and replaced with wood-framed, tinted glass windows that minimize sun damage. More building refurbishments will take place over the next 10 years. LEFT PHOTO BY MATT FILAR | UNION; RIGHT PHOTO BY KLH | UNION

Holiday Open House at Bayside Temperance Hall

BAYSIDE CORNERS

BAYSIDE – The initial site improvement plan for the Bayside Temperance Hall designed by landscape architect Jessica Hall, will be on display to view at a Holiday Open House, Saturday, Dec. 10 from noon to 4 p.m. The public is invited and ideas and community input are encouraged.

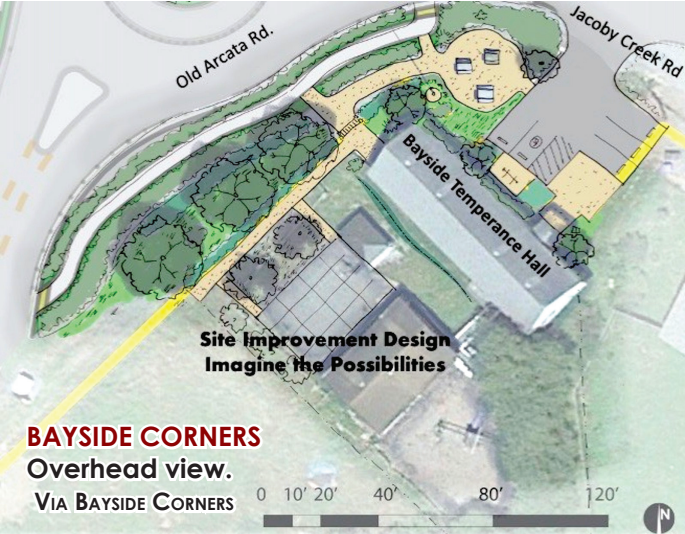

To clear up confusion, the locally-owned Bayside Temperance Hall (1928 Old Arcata Rd.) and the Bayside Grange Community Hall (2297 Jacoby Creek Rd.) are two separate buildings, owned by two different organizations.

Before the first white settlers arrived in Jacoby Creek Valley in the 1850s, the Wiyot people lived here in villages, and the present main roads were their trails. In 1881, the International Good Templars acquired a small parcel in the center of Bayside (corner of Old Arcata and Jacoby Creek Roads) and completed construction of the settlers' first social venue, the Bayside Temperance Hall in 1882 – 130 years ago!

Starting in the late 1800s, the Temperance Movement grew steadily in the U.S. and Humboldt County. Bayside was a typical settlement during the Wild West years, with settlers working in the Jacoby Creek quarry and in logging, agriculture and fishing.

Many more men than women lived here, working in large crews. They frequented pubs and saloons but could find few places to socialize without alcohol. Unhealthy and bad-tasting drinking water also led many to drink alcohol. Temperance groups constructed public drinking fountains, social halls, and even hospitals throughout the United States.

The Bayside Temperance Hall has a rich history of serving the community as a social hub and wellspring for positive developments. The Bayside Presbyterian Church congregation met here in its early years until William Carson's lumber company donated lumber and supplies to build their beautiful church (2023 Old Arcata Rd.).

Before the striking, historic Jacoby Creek School – now StreamGuys' location – was built in 1903 (2212 Jacoby Creek Road), the Temperance Hall was used for student performances and school activities.

Chartered in 1932, the Bayside Grange met at the Temperance Hall until its members raised the funds necessary to build the large kitchen and huge dance hall in 1940-42. In the 1930s to '40sS wing Era, swing-style big bands were the rage, and the Temperance Hall was not large enough to accommodate all the dancers.

On weekends, Humboldt's grange buildings and other large halls built by fraternal organizations filled with dancers from all over the County. The Bayside Orchestra, which regularly performed, had enthusiastic fans. The advent of local movie theatres, television, large venues built by local governments, and no longer offering insurance caused a steady decline in Grange membership.

Today, many of the most loyal and active grange members have died. The ongoing maintenance, repair, cleaning and business of renting their large halls has been more work and responsibility than volunteers can handle.

Meanwhile, for 25 years, the Temperance Hall next door to the Bayside Grange Hall has primarily been used by Mistwood Center for Education. Bayside Corners, Inc., the local, nonprofit owner of the property, in cooperation with Mistwood, is dedicated to improvements that will make the Temperance Hall a more useful venue for community groups.

The Temperance Hall is available for use most evenings, weekends, and summer months. To learn more and to join this effort, email baysidecorners@gmail.com.

HOME AWAY FROM HOME On Sunday Dec. 4, Home Away From Home will again offer food and supplies for Cal Poly Humboldt and College of the Redwoods students. Incorporation McKinleyville community have explored the feasibility of incorporation multiple times; most recently a feasibility study was conducted in 2000. In September 2022, the McKinleyville Municipal Advisory Committee (MMAC) voted to form a Subcommittee to conduct research and outline current findings to inform the MMAC and the community about the feasibility of incorporation. The Subcommittee meets and conducts business in accordance with MMAC bylaws that include publicly noticed and publicly held meetings."

The subcommittee members include Kevin Jenkins, Lisa Dugan, Mary Burke and Pat Kaspari. The committee is seeking two additional members.

The McKMAC website describe the "desired experience" of additoinal members as "Expertise in economics, LAFCO and/or municipal government and its formation. This subcommittee has been directed to explore the feasibility of, and the process for municipal incorporation. To that end, the committee seeks additional committee members who can approach the topic with objectivity. Members will be expected to attend monthly subcommittee meetings, and complete assignments between meetings such as research, and/or compiling information. Members may be expected to take part in meetings of the full MMAC, or other meetings or forums where the committee's work may be disseminated and discussed. Application can be made by submitting a letter of interest to mckinleyvillemac@gmail.com that includes the following: Name, address, phone, e-mail address, and any experience or information pertinent to subcommittee membership."

Manila | Evictions

Director John Broderick noted that the board's request is also a suggestion and that the bank is under no obligation to delay the evictions.

"What we're saying is not binding on anyone anyway," Broderick said.

Director Dave Jannetta questioned whether the district should be weighing in on private property matters that are not under its jurisdiction.

"As much as it's symbolic, it also seems dangerous as a precedent," Jannetta said.

Despite those concerns, a letter to the bank asking for a delay was approved.

Arcata House and other social services agencies are reportedly working with the tenants to find housing.

Pianist, choirs to perform at Morris Graves

MORRIS GRAVES MUSEUM OF ART
EUREKA – Don’t miss pianist Katharina Meerle Goodshield at Arts Alive! in the Morris Graves Museum of Art on Saturday, Dec. 3 from 6 to 9 p.m. The concert will take you on a journey through fantastical soundscapes of nature, fantasy and beyond! Katharina Meerle Goodshield is a pianist and composer from Bonn, Germany, who has also studied social and cultural anthropology at the University of Vienna, where she graduated with a Bachelor of Arts in 2012.

SATURDAY NIGHT Katharina Meerle Goodshield performs Saturday, Dec. 3 at the Morris Graves.

Music and composition have always been an important part of her life and after she graduated from university she established herself as a self-employed pianist and composer in Vienna before moving to Northern California in 2016. She has composed original music for various productions at the Ateliertheater, Vienna and has also performed regularly in famous Viennese Café houses and luxury hotels in Vienna and Switzerland.

Museum goers will also hear music from choir groups, “A Company of Voices” and “EHS Limited Edition” between Katharina’s piano sets. Eureka High School’s “Limited Edition” is the county-recognized Vocal Jazz Ensemble under the direction of Charles Young, a recent Outstanding Music Educator of the North Coast CMEA. “A Company of Voices” are a group of professional and non-professional singers in Humboldt County who work to combine their collective singing experiences and appreciation of diverse vocal repertoire to create an eclectic blend of musical offerings.

Make sure to visit each of the galleries while you’re in the museum Saturday night too! Lay eyes on our newly installed exhibitions, “HAC Members Exhibition” – in the Anderson and Knight Galleries, and Katie Pasquini Masopust’s exhibition of quilts, titled “Capriccio” – in the Thonson Gallery.

Open air watercolor painter Paul Rickard will be in the Humboldt Artist Gallery doing watercolor demonstrations and other members of the Humboldt Artist Gallery will be selling their wares in the Rotunda during the HAG’s Annual Holiday Sale.

The Morris Graves Museum of Art is located at 636 F St., Eureka.

A night of percussion at Cal Poly

CAL POLY HUMBOLDT
CAL POLY HUMBOLDT – The Department of Dance, Music, and Theatre at Cal Poly Humboldt presents Contemporary Music for Percussion performed by the Cal Poly Humboldt Percussion Ensemble; The Exciting Rhythms of the Brazilian tradition performed by the World Percussion Group; And the Festive Steel Drum Sounds of the Caribbean performed by the Humboldt Calypso Band.

The performances are directed by Eugene Novotney and Howard Kaufman. Join us Saturday, Dec. 3 at 8 p.m. at the Fulkerson Recital Hall.

Concert tickets are $10 general, $5 children, and free for Cal Poly Humboldt students with ID. Tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance at centerarts.humboldt.edu.

From the "All Events" drop down menu select "School of Dance, Music, and Theatre" and select your event.

Director Eugene Novotney is enthusiastic about the evenings program, "Every piece and every musical arrangement on this concert are phenomenal! I am so happy to share this music with the Humboldt community, and truly, if you make the effort to come out to this concert, you will not be disappointed!"

Proof of COVID vaccination and booster is still required for all guests on campus. At press time, the wearing of facemasks is not mandatory, but it is strongly encouraged.

HUMBOLDT BREWERY
Midnight North will perform Wednesday, Nov. 30 at the Humboldt Brewery at 856 10th St. in Arcata. Reflecting on the time since their origin, Midnight North is ready to tell the world its story. A group of multi-instrumentalists with songwriting roots in folk and Americana, Midnight North is a mainstay on the stages of the national touring circuit. Rolling Stone hailed Midnight North as the “Best New Act” in its review of 2018’s Peach Music Festival saying the band “takes the best parts of roots music and weaves them into a tapestry of rock and Americana.” Doors open at 7:30 p.m, show starts at 8 p.m. 21 and over. Tickets are $18 in advance and $20 at the door. For more information, call (707) 826-BREWS or visit humbrews.com.

and Sergei Prokofiev’s Troika, plus Alan Silvestri’s heartwarming Polar Express Suite. Doors open at 7:30 p.m, show starts at 8 p.m. All ages. Ticket prices vary. For more information, call (707) 845-3655 or visit eukasymphony.org.

SING, SING, SING The Cal Poly Humboldt Department of Dance, Music, and Theatre presents “Sing, Sing, Sing,” featuring Mad River Transit Singers, the Cal Poly Humboldt jazz choir. The performance is Friday, Dec. 2 at 8 p.m. at the Fulkerson Recital Hall at Cal Poly Humboldt in Arcata. Concert tickets are $10 general, $5 children, and free for Cal Poly Humboldt students with ID. Proof of COVID vaccination and booster are still required for all guests on campus. At press time, the wearing of facemasks is not mandatory, but it is strongly encouraged.

YOUNG DUBLINERS The Young Dubliners will perform Friday, Dec. 2 at the Humboldt Brewery at 856 10th St. in Arcata. The Young Dubliners have released nine albums to date. The set on the upcoming dates will draw from all their albums and include unreleased new material. Although the Young Dubliners sound is most commonly called “Celtic rock,” that label can often be misleading. The Irish influence is certainly there, but it’s not the only influence that bursts through on their albums or live shows. Doors open at 8:30 p.m, show starts at 9 p.m. 21 and over. Tickets are $25 in advance and at the door. For more information, call (707) 826-BREWS or visit humbrews.com.

Grand Opening celeb for the Manila Trail

REDWOOD COMMUNITY ACTION AGENCY

MANILA – The County of Humboldt, Caltrans and Redwood Community Action Agency will host a grand opening celebration of the Manila Trail along Highway 255 on Monday, Dec. 5 from 1 to 2 p.m.

Meet at the Manila interpretative sign along the trail, located between Park Street and Pacific, on the west side of 255. This first trail segment along 255 is for pedestrians, cyclists, and other non-motorized users, helping to connect Manila neighborhoods and provide safe routes to school.

Project leaders and Manila residents hope to continue trail development in Manila, providing safe, non-motorized pathways within Manila and between the communities of Samoa and Arcata.

Parking for the event is available at the Manila Community Service District office or Redwood Coast Montessori.

The event will begin with a ribbon-cutting ceremony, a few words from community members, and cupcakes. Weather permitting, there will be a parade down the trail after the ceremony. Festive attire, decorated bikes, and scooters are encouraged at this community celebration. Prizes will be given for creative costumes and decorations. See you on the trail!

U.S. FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE

SUNNY BRAE – Scouts BSA Troop 15 and Cub Scout Pack 95 from Arcata conducted a conservation service project removing invasive vegetation from Sunny Brae Park in Arcata. This workday was held in conjunction with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service’s Coastal Program and the City of Arcata.

The Scouts used weed wrenches and other hand tools to remove a mountain of invasive Scotch and French broom, English ivy, cotoneaster, English Holly, and pampas grass to help restore wildlife habitat in the park. Sunny Brae Park contains a very unique stand of madrone trees, which are very unusual in the coastal environment and have been suffering due to the abundance of invasive plant species at the site.

The Coastal Program has been working with the City over the past three years to address the invasive vegetation and improve conditions for the madrone, which are a beneficial species for migratory songbirds that pass through the area.

Scouts that participated in the removal effort have earned the “Conservation Good Turn” award for collaborating with a conservation organization to carry out a conservation project in their home community. The scouts are planning additional service projects in the future to continue the restoration efforts at this site.

Peninsula Beautification Project kicks off with Manila Park volunteer day

REDWOOD COMMUNITY ACTION AGENCY

MANILA – The Humboldt Bay Harbor District, Redwood Community Action Agency (RCAA), and Caltrans are celebrating the launch of the Peninsula Beautification Project with a Community Volunteer Day kick-off event at Manila Park. The event will take place Saturday, Dec. 3, from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Manila Park.

Volunteers will spread new woodchips at the playground, plant native plants, and remove trash from the park. Caltrans will be on site to produce a video showcasing the grant project and event activities.

Please bring work clothes, gloves and a water bottle. Drinks and snacks will be provided at this kid-friendly event.

The Peninsula Beautification Project’s goals are to reduce and prevent dumping and littering, beautify and protect public spaces for recreation, and support the people who live and work in Manila, Samoa, Fairhaven and Finn Town.

Specific improvements will include murals, physical barriers to minimize illegal driving on the beach, interpretive and wayfinding signs, a Humboldt Bay-wide litter abatement campaign, park and public recreational enhancements throughout the Peninsula, more play structures, a series of community cleanup events, improvements for pedestrians and much more.

The project builds on the work that the Peninsula Community Collaborative (PCC) has done over several years. The PCC is a resident-based community group that supports this shared vision: “We collaborate to bring Peninsula community members together, share ideas, develop solutions, seek support, and put our plans into action with the goal of improving well-being and safety.”

The Harbor District and RCAA will coordinate the implementation of the project and will work closely with PCC. The project team looks forward to making these visible changes on the Samoa Peninsula for the enjoyment of all! For more information about this project, please contact Alysia Bixler at abixler@rcaa.org.

The total funding for this project is $903,870 and will be complete by June 2024. This funding is provided by the Clean California Local Grant Program, which was established by the legislature to beautify and clean up local streets and roads, tribal lands, parks, pathways, transit centers, and other public spaces.

The Clean California Local Grant Program is administered by the California Department of Transportation (Caltrans). This project is one of 105 projects identified for funding throughout the state in the program’s first cycle. More information is available at cleancalifornia.dot.ca.gov/local-grants.
